

Miss Me - But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road;
And, the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little - but not too long;
And, not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared.
Miss me - but, let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take;
And each must go alone,
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart
Go to the friends we know;
And, bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
Miss me - but let me go.*

Elayne Anetta (Strohl) Fahlgren was born on August 25, 1925, in Bismarck, ND, to George and Gertrude (Sundstrom) Strohl. She was one of three children. She attended school and graduated from high school in Washburn, ND. Elayne was united in marriage to Melvin “Kelly” Fahlgren on January 18, 1947. They were blessed with two children: Lee and Lynne. In 1955, Elayne moved with her family to Ortonville. She held numerous occupations, most recently as the Activity Coordinator at Northridge Residence (a position she held for almost ten years).

Elayne was a longtime member of First English Lutheran Church and served in many capacities. She was a Sunday school teacher, Altar Guild member, and served in many church circles. She was also very active with the Big Stone American Legion Auxiliary, serving as president for 12 years. She also enjoyed bowling league, gardening, baking, and cooking (especially trying new recipes). She was an avid reader and many times would read an entire book in one day.

Elayne is survived by her children: Lee Fahlgren of Ortonville, MN; and Lynne Mackey of Memphis, TN; sister, Mavis Baranyk of Bismarck, ND; grandchildren: Eric and Kyle of Drummonds, TN; and Kelsey of Memphis, TN; great-granddaughter, Melanie; many numerous nieces and nephews; and many other family members and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Melvin “Kelly” Fahlgren; sister, Iolha Arner; and brothers-in-law: DuWayne Baranyk, and Glen E. Arner.
